In some instances, consumers may achieve an outcome solely through information and referral (I&R) services. Section C – Additional Information Concerning Individual Services or Achievements

Please provide any additional description or explanation concerning individual services or achievements reported in subpart III, including outstanding success stories and/or major obstacles encountered.

Achievements/Success Stories

One CIL through consumer assistance, no interest loans, 100 Neediest Cases Funds and the CB Tax Credit was able to provide approximately $700,000 to consumers in their catchment area.

One CIL's Transitions and Careers Program continues to expand in scope. CIL personnel continue to teach the credited class for freshman and seniors in a local school district. Again this year, at-risk students utilizing the GED program offered through DESE participated in the Transitions Program. The Internship Program for current students, graduates and at-risk students completing the course has continued to expand during the report period. This year 2 interns were employed. This component allows students participating in the school portion of the program to obtain real paid work experience and access to ongoing peer support. Students gain a better understanding of Independent Living Philosophy and gain continuous peer support from staff. Interns are eligible to access the JARC Transportation Program and for a $500 educational scholarship offered by the organization.

One CIL has continued the Equine Assisted Therapy Program serving 30 individuals with various disabilities. Through a memorandum of understanding, students from the Jefferson College Occupational Therapy Assistant Program volunteered and interacted with the program as part of their curriculum.

One CIL has a consumer who is a 46 year old female with COPD. She has been receiving Independent Living Services and Consumer Directed Services since 2006. Having attendant services she can direct herself allows her to remain in her home of many years. She lives independently in her own home in a remote rural area. Without Consumer Directed Services she would require institutionalization.

In the past year, one CIL developed a new position called the Home and Community Based Services Specialist (HCBS). The person in this role assists consumers who have questions or are facing obstacles in accessing services allowing them to remain in their community including; Medicaid services, Social Security benefits or similar programs. In the past year, the HCBS has assisted many consumers in resolving issues with Medicaid spend down, addressing Medicaid asset limitations or working with state agencies regarding consumer Medicaid status. The HCBS also assists non Medicaid consumers. As a result of the efforts of the HCBS, a number of consumers have gained access to home and community based services or maintained eligibility for services which allows them to remain living independently.

One CIL had two consumers who were neighbors in the nursing home who went through the nursing home transition program. During their time in the nursing home, they came to be very close friends. Through the transition program, they were able to move into the same apartment complex only a few doors down from one another. They still remain great friends who value each other's company and spend a lot of time together.

The Consumer Directed Services Program provides opportunities for individuals to reach many goals including continuing their education and entering the workforce. One consumer, with the assistance of her attendant, is able to continue her education and is currently seeking her Master's Degree in Social Work. She has a strong interest in independent living and hopes to work with people with disabilities. Another consumer was able to continue her education and received her Bachelor's Degree in the Agricultural field. She has since obtained employment in her degree area. The CDS Program made it possible for her to go to college on campus and obtain the degree and job of her dreams.

One CIL had a student in the Pre-Employment Transition Program who stated he wanted to go into graphic design but was not sure if he could afford to pay his way through college. The student said after visiting with a "Student Advisor" at the University, he now is aware of financial aid available through the college to help with the cost of his education. He stated he now understands he has the option to go to college and how to begin the enrollment process as well as knowing who to talk with about financial aid. He stated, "My parents did not think they could afford to send me to college. I will give them the packet of information I received at the University and they can go with me to see if I qualify for financial aid. That will make them very happy and me too!!"

One CIL's partnership with other agencies and organizations allows them to assist consumers in reaching their goals. This CIL has been able to refer several consumers to the Midwest Special Needs Trust Charitable Grant Program. With their CDS and IL Specialists' assistance, consumers have received grants to obtain needed dental care, hearing aids, and other equipment that they would not have been able to otherwise afford.

After one CIL was made aware of a consumer in need of a shower bench, a couple of the IL advocates delivered what had been requested. Upon their arrival, there was an instant glow of gratification beaming from the consumer's face as tears of joy began to fill her eyes. The consumer was literally speechless for a time, but gradually expressed her gratitude "You don't know how much of a blessing this is to me. This is wonderful!" She had previously fallen a number of times. Having a shower bench with a back attached to it was the relief she had been searching for.

A Money Follows the Person (MFP) participant who transitioned into the community requested funds to buy a lift chair. His MFP funds had been expended, so the CIL staff worked with the participant to develop a plan to pay for the chair. Medicaid paid for a portion of the chair that qualified under covered services, the participant paid part of the cost and the CIL's Consumer Assistance Fund (CAF) paid the remainder.

Obstacles

The need for services is rising while state and federal money continues to be threatened each year by budget cuts and the reorganization of state programs and services. Missouri has reduced some state programs and CILs are seeing the end result of those cuts in an increase in requests for services especially for Mental Health Services.

Significant changes to the state and federal regulations are impacting the CDS Program administered by CILs. There are third party employment concerns with new guidelines from the Department of Labor that carries additional unfunded expenses. In addition, attendant unions are forming and are asking for wages that may threaten the ability to deliver existing services.

Budget shortages or cutbacks have caused local organizations across the state to either close or scale back services leaving CILs to pick up the slack. Requests for consumer assistance funding have and will continue to rapidly increase until such a time that the national economic situation improves. There continues to be a significant number of individuals who remain un-served.

Affordable and Accessible Housing for persons with disabilities is a major concern statewide. CILs have experienced challenges finding affordable/accessible housing for consumers this past year when attempting to transition them from a nursing home back to the community. Several consumers continue to wait months while CILs look for affordable/accessible housing.

One or more CILs have discussed the issue concerning affordable and accessible housing at the state level through the Money Follows the Person (MFP) program. There is a partnership that has been formed with Missouri Housing and the MFP program to attempt to address some of the issues with affordable and accessible housing in Missouri.

CILs continue to get many requests throughout the year for information in finding affordable/accessible housing from other consumers that are not transitioning from a nursing home.

With the implementation of WIOA centers are now required to provide transition service, which consists of three components. There was not an increase in funding to compensate for the additional services. In order to provide the new services all CIL services had to be reviewed to determine what changes or cuts could be made in order to continue to provide the most needed services. Cuts were done for some services that are not required, such as ramp/home modification and accessibility programs. In addition some staff positions were eliminated. CILs continue to look for additional funding streams, resources, and creative ways to provide services to consumers with decreased staff and limited funding.

Affordable and reliable transportation continues to be a major obstacle for many of the consumers served. Many of the consumers live in rural areas of Missouri where transportation options are more limited.

If applicable, describe any changes to the information contained in the SPIL that occurred during the reporting year, including the placement, legal status, membership or autonomy of the SILC; the SILC resource plan, the design of the statewide network of centers; and the DSE administration of the SILS program.

The third year of the Missouri 2014-2016 SPIL was completed September 30, 2016. There were no changes to the 2014-2016 SPIL. The Missouri 2017-2019 SPIL took effect October 1, 2016 as per approval by ACL. Section B– Significant Activities and Accomplishments

If applicable, describe any significant activities and accomplishments achieved by the DSE and SILC not included elsewhere in the report, e.g. brief summaries of innovative practices, improved service delivery to consumers, etc.

Housing Committee:

This year the committee continued to promote Missouri Universal Design through trainings and handouts at various events.

The committee with the help of IL partners provided Universal Design Material at the Power Up conference and Missouri Housing Summit.

The committee along with other IL partners presented a webinar. It was held April 28th, 2016. Staff from the CIL in Festus, Missouri spoke on Developing Accessible/Affordable Community Based Housing. There were approximately 75 people that participated in the live webinar. The webinar has been archived and is available so individuals can view it at any time on the MOSILC website.

The committee, along with other IL partners, has begun working on another UD webinar. The plan is to present it in later in 2017. The topic being considered is disability sensitivity training for realtors. This can also apply to staff in other businesses as well. Staff from the CIL in Springfield, Missouri will present this webinar.

Last year the committee offered a grant to IL partners. Each grant provided financial assistance to a center for independent living to provide housing training. The Springfield, Missouri CIL used the grant to purchase a 27” monitor and cable to use at their booth at the HBA Homebuilders Show in January. They will be able to use the monitor at future events as well. The CIL in Kirksville, Missouri held two trainings, one each in February and March 2016, called Universal Design, Accessibility and YOU! The trainings were held in Kirksville and Macon. Michele Ohmes from Kansas City and Teresa Cody from USDA were the speakers. The CIL in Warrensburg, Missouri held a training on June 14, 2016 at the University of Central Missouri. Wayne Crawford was the main speaker.

The Housing Committee will offer demonstration grants in 2017 to be awarded to at least four CILs for the amount not to exceed $500. This grant was approved by the MOSILC to assist the housing committee to cover housing training in the state regionally. The grant applications were sent out in December 2016.

Many members of our committee along with our IL partners continue to work with their local municipalities to endorse and bring about change so more affordable and accessible housing is made available.

Youth Transition Committee:

The SILC maintains the Gary Moll Memorial Scholarship. There were two scholarships awarded in 2016.

The SILC sponsored two youths for the MO Youth Leadership Forum. During the forum, a survey was conducted to gauge the interest in youth being more active locally, for example on CIL, SILC and other boards. The committee worked to get the word out to centers and other interested parties to get more youth participation at the MYLF. This year the MYLF had the most participation in a long time.

The committee has discussed the possibility of helping get information to CIL's on how to create local Youth Councils. The idea is that the local youth councils can do activities to get involved and also incorporate more youth, while also working with the MYLF to get more youth from around the state involved in attending the MYLF.

Training Committee:

The MOSILC Training Committee partnered with Missouri Assistive Technology to host the "Power Up to the Summit" in April 2016. The committee plans to meet again to discuss planning for the next joint conference. There was some discussion regarding revising and re-implementing training and orientation for new SILC members.

Emergency Management Committee:

The MOSILC Emergency Management committee changed leadership in Fiscal Year 2016. SILC member Gary Copeland was appointed the new Chairperson of that committee. Gary has assumed the SILC's position with the Access and Functional Needs subcommittee of the Governor's Faith Based Partnership. The committee continues to advise all Missouri Centers for Independent Living when severe weather is about to, or has impacted various geographic areas of the state.
